

March 24, 2003
7:40am
Monday

☆

2457-1

My daughter,

Please listen & write each time I come to you. Please continue to write so these messages can be spread across this world. It is time now to write & share all that I am teaching you. Hearts will be touched, so please do what I am asking of you. Many are still sleeping & they need to come to know our dear Lord Jesus. The Fatima message must be spread so more repent & turn to God. Without a repentive heart one cannot move closer to my son Jesus. All must repent & believe, believe in the gospel. All must do penance for their sins & reform their ways. All must live the gospel & be true servants for our Lord. Yes, each child must respond or there will not be peace in this darkened world. Without love in your hearts you will see much more destruction. Unity must be restored + that will not happen until my children join hands + work together. How I weep when I see so much blood shed around this world. How I weep for so many soldiers are not prepared. I weep, weep for my children because so many do not know God. So many are living in sin + they are not prepared to meet Almighty God. Many do not realize that this earth is only temporary. Today is a day to pray. Today when you gather pray for peace + harmony across this world. Pray, pray from your hearts so conversion can happen before its too late. I will truly join you each time you pray so please, please pray more. Now please keep your focus on God for he is love + desires to give the world peace. Move forward now + imitate Jesus, for Jesus is the bridge to your heavenly father. Amen