

(April 8, 04)
7:30am
Thursday

2611-1

my daughter,

Tell my children that in order to come to know God's mercy & love they must repent & turn away from sin. They must obey God's commandments & take heed to the gospel. They must examine their conscience & be truly sorry for their sins. All must do their part if they truly want to blossom for our Lord. Today I ask that you each spend time with Jesus. I ask that you let go of your worldly ways & spend time with my Son in the Blessed Sacrament. I ask that you make time to be with Jesus for he truly awaits your love. He longs to be with you in a special way. He is your refuge & strength so please turn to God & pray & take time to converse with him. God's love is endless so please do not reject him. He is merciful, loving & truly knows what is best for your soul. He desires to

2611-2

Share his love, his love with each of you. His love is unconditional so do not be afraid to come to him. Receive his grace & believe that God is merciful to those who turn to him with a repentant heart; Now please spend time with Jesus for his mercy brings victory to all who repent & come to him. Spend time with Jesus for his heart radiates his love for each of you. Unite your hearts to Jesus most sacred heart. Unite yourselves to the heart of my sons mercy, suffering, & unending love. Amen