2666-1

my daughter,

Pray & implore Gods mercy upon this world. Without more prayer this world will suffer, suffer tremendously. Many more storms will arise if man does not wake up soon. Much more evil will enter if man continues to deny that God exists. I have been asking my children to pray so why are so many denying heavens call. Where are my priests? Why do so many live in fear. So many have lost their dedication to God & are not living their vocation. So many are neglecting prayer because they are giving in to their desires. Due to lack of faith & trust in God many are relying on themselves. I say to my children if you turn away from God & Refuse his assistance you will see much more devastation. You will see hurricanes like never before. You will see mass destruction. You will see much more bloodshed.

Dear children I am your heavenly mother. I want to protect all my children. I want to lead each of you closer to Christ. I cannot help you if you are choosing to walk alone. I cannot protect you until you turn to God. You must return to God + return to his sacraments, you must obey each commandment + be truly willing to serve our Lord.

You must accept Gods love + turn to him each new day. You must pray if you truly want to be protected on this earth. Many ferrousts Roam this earth + they truly have many followers. If all my children would pray, their plans would be destroyed. If all my children took heed to these messages the evil one would lose power. Through prayer + devotion to our Lord you will be protected through each new battle. Please get down on your knees + spend time with
