

April 8, 2005
8am
Friday

2762-1

my daughter

It is a day to give thanks to Almighty God for the many blessings He has bestowed upon this world. Each of you must be grateful for the many years that this pope was able to teach you. This holy pope was a true shepherd & he was chosen for these times. He was inspired by God to truly lead the faithful forward. This pope truly suffered for all humanity. His suffering is now over & he is truly in heaven. Heaven awaits those who use their hands & voice for Christ. Heaven is your true home & you must each strive to live a holy life on this earth. Now please do not give in to the world. Be true Catholics & live, live all that this pope has taught you. Be willing to stand up for the truth. Be willing to be persecuted for living your Catholic faith. I am with you each step of the way. All of heaven rejoices on this glorious day. Amen